PAG VOLUNTEER SHOW

Winners with comments from judge, Susan Convery:

First Place: Judy Nunno, "The Prayer"

Perfect in Every Way. I love the use of the cool purple with the warm red background and the repetition of the stripes in the dress with the folds in the shawl and the stripes in the light. The details of the face and skin colors are perfect. There is a peace created by the large areas of undetailed space in the background and the shawl. Just a lovely peace.

Also a quiet and subtle work. This Luna moth in a green mist is mysterious and peaceful. The fireflies add an interest that keeps the viewer engaged with the work and enjoying the light of the moon, the light on the moth and the flickering light of the fireflies.

Wonderful use of monochrome green to create a mood.

Second Place: Pat Wahl, "Misty Lunar Night"

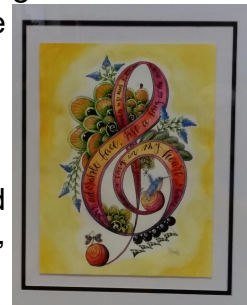

Third Place: Judi Wallack, "Lotus Flowers"

Beautiful use of space and sense of motion in the leaves. The contrast of the cool greens of the top sides of the leaves with the warm green of the undersides of the leaves adds life and the floating feeling of water, or wind. The tiny pink blossoms are carefully observed and varied to contrast with the shape of the leaves. You feel the plant growing and stretching into the sunlight. The stitching is exquisite with many subtle details in texture.

Merit Award: Pat Brooks, "With a Song"

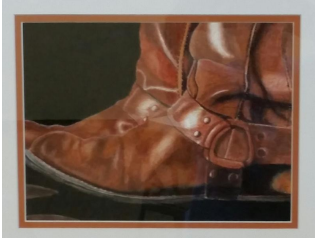

Elegant, beautifully drawn & lettered. I love the way the artist has incorporated the musical theme and the feeling of a crescendo. The bird and flowers add sweetness and joy. The little notes gathered on the bottom of the clef remind me of a rollercoaster in the way they repeat the form of the leaves going up around the bend. We know there is movement, words, music, variation and joy in this song.

Judge's Choice: Effie Lewis, "Florida Opuntia"

This piece makes me happy. There is so much playfulness in the reflections and variations of the cactus shapes. Some are blue, some are green, some are spotted, some shade from green to blue or orange. There is the full range of values and the full range of hues, used in a way that enhances the image. There is boldness and subtlety at the same time. Every nopal is different and the flowers just add to the joy.

People's Choice: Fran Katz, "These Boots Are Made for Riding"
